3-Day tour in Lyon

Day 1: Presqu’île heritage
Day 2: The Lyon Paul Bocuse Covered Market – Museum of Fine Arts
Day 3: The Silk-printing Workshop
Saturday the 3rd of October 2015

1 pm: Arrival (transport from Paris to Lyon not included)

2 pm: pedestrian Visit

It is bounded South by the street Franklin, the district of Ainay and its abbey and includes the city center and the fashion designers in the street Edouard Herriot and the "Golden square", the streets between place Bellecour and place des Jacobins.

4 pm: end of the visit
DAY 2: The Lyon Paul Bocuse covered market – Museum of fine arts

Sunday the 4th of October 2015

9 am: After learning a little about Lyon gastronomy, go for a stroll through the alleyways of the covered market and discover all the products that make the world capital of gastronomy so famous. A festival of colour, sound, aroma and taste in a very special atmosphere where quality rhymes with well-being.

12 am: Lunch, drinks included, in a “Bouchon” of Lyon (3-course meal – wine – coffee)

2 pm: With 70 rooms covering 7,000 m², the Museum of Fine Arts in the Palais Saint Pierre is the largest Fine Arts museum in France after the Louvre. It contains sculptures and paintings from the 14th to the 20th century, collections of Egyptian art, oriental art, art objects, coins, etc. Madame Delubac left her collections to the museum in 1997. It was created in 1803 in a former twelfth century Benedictine convent by François Royer de la Valfenière.

Monday 5th of October 2015

9 am: The “canuts” or silk-workers used to live in the Croix-Rousse. The “traboules” were very important for them. You will see just why! History is everywhere on the bustling slopes of the Croix-Rousse: here you will find the ruins of the Gallo-Roman amphitheater where the first Christians died as martyrs. Professionals show you how screen printing is done and you will be given a demonstration of painting by hand on a length of silk velvet.

13H00: End of Lyon Tour
